WHO I AM

Design, passion, transformation and revolution to build new ideas and create a good future for humanity.

I am a brazilian designer based in Rio de Janeiro. I have 20 years old and for all this years I'm translating ideas, dreams and desires in pleasant and useful things. More than a just graphic designer I'm a reconstructor of world.

Design is more than grids and colors trough him we can make the world better, build new things to improve people's lives and bring progress to cities and societies. I see in design the way to to overcome borders, solve issues, change people, nations thoughts, desires and policies.

My branding and visual identity are built inside passion, revolution and transformation of the this world, constantly evolving and expanding to new corners of the universe, creating new tools, contexts and experiences. There's no limits to a good design!
